Commission Hit With Federal Lawsuit

The Coffee County Jail in Elba has been a thorn in the side of county commissioners and sheriffs for many years, and all along the politicians knew that one day an inmate would file a lawsuit about the poor conditions in the antiquated facility. However, each set of elected officials would keep their fingers crossed and hope the suit wouldn't come during their term. Well, their luck has run out, because on Wednesday, Nov. 18, a former state inmate housed at the jail filed a suit in United States District Court and named Sheriff Bruce Paul, Judge James L. Sawyer and the members of the Coffee County Commission as defendants.

Filing the suit was Wallace Cottrell, a former state inmate who was reportedly confined in the jail for 30 days during the summer of 1981 while awaiting a disciplinary hearing at the Elba Work Release Center. He was serving a sentence for second degree burglary at the time of the stay at the county jail.

In the lawsuit, filed by Cottrell, individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated, the plaintiffs declared the suit was an action seeking declaratory and injunctive redress against the defendants for committing acts under color of state law, depriving the plaintiffs of rights under the Constitution and laws of the United States.

Specifically, the complaint accused the defendants, jointly and severally, of establishing and maintaining laws and facilities which deprive the plaintiffs of the rights, privileges, and immunities guaranteed under the First, Fifth, Eighth and Fourteenth Amendments.

Under the Eighth and Fourteenth Amendments, the plaintiffs stated the defendants owe a duty to each inmate incarcerated in the Coffee County Jail to be free from deprivation of his or her life, liberty or property without due process of law and to be free from cruel and unusual punishment. These mandated duties include: the duty to provide inmates with protection from harm; the duty to provide safe and sanitary living conditions; the duty to provide the opportunity for adequate visitation and communication; the duty to abstain from unfair, summary or cruel disciplinary practices; the duty to provide a medical care delivery system which is adequate to meet the needs of all inmates; the duty to provide a program of exercise; the duty to provide a healthful diet; the duty to provide minimal requisites for personal hygiene and the duty to provide an environment and program which will not impede an inmate's rehabilitation or in any other way debilitate him physically, mentally or socially.

Continuing, the suit contends the defendants failed or refused to provide the inmates with protection from harm by: maintaining a staff insufficient in numbers and training to protect an inmate from harm; failure to implement a classification system which would minimize the likelihood of physical assaults by guards or other inmates; and also violated the rights of the inmates by maintaining the jail in an unsanitary, unsafe and hazardous state of disrepair. The poor conditions included overcrowded living areas, inadequate and unsanitary toilets, sinks and showers, failure to repair broken or leaking pipes, windows, walls and ceilings, and a failure to provide proper ventilation in the summer and heating in the winter. The lengthy document, listed a total of 16 major complaints, with countless minor inadequacies.

In closing, the suit asked the court grant inmates relief by: declaring unlawful the maintenance of the Coffee County Jail in the manner listed in the plaintiffs' enjoining the defendants from continuing the maintenance of the jail, and requiring the defendants to take affirmative action to be denied by this court to completely eliminate all of the conditions in the Coffee County Jail as set out in the complaint.

The commissioners, sheriff and probate judge have 20 days to answer the complaint in the Middle District of Alabama, United States District Court.

Elderly May Receive Tax Exemptions

By NITA LACKEY

There are now two property tax exemptions for persons over 65 years old—both which are contingent on income, according to Revenue Commissioner Ronnie Burns.

The first, known as Act 48, states that an individual over 65 years old is exempt from ad valorem taxation on up to 160 acres of owner-occupied adjacent property. This includes state, county, municipal and school district taxes, Burns said.

To qualify for this exemption, the individual must have had an adjusted gross income of $7,500 or less by his last Alabama state income tax form. If the person does not have his or her last state tax form, other sufficient evidence (such as a federal income tax form), must be brought to the revenue commissioner's office.

The second exemption, Act 8157, allows persons over 65 to pay a much reduced rate of taxes.

This act states that an individual is exempt from taxation on up to 160 acres of owner-occupied adjacent property as far as estate taxation is concerned, and exempt on up to $5,000 worth of assessed value on both county and school district taxes, Burns said. However, if these individuals live within the city limits of a municipality they are required to pay city taxes.

In order to qualify for this exemption, your annual income must be less than $12,000, but more than $7,500, as per your Alabama state income tax form's listing of adjusted gross income.

"I would like to emphasize the fact that individuals over 65 years of age, in order to qualify for either exemption, may qualify for the normal homestead exemption, Burns said.

If no tax returns (state or federal), were filed the individual is required to sign as such on his assessment sheet, and may still receive the exemption, he added.

Persons who do not qualify for either of the above exemptions (of any age), may qualify for the normal homestead exemption, Burns said. This allows up to a $48,000 exemption for someone who owns property and lives on it.

Sen. Mike Weeks Agrees To Allow Vote On Sales Tax Bill

State Senator Mike Weeks told his newspaper Monday that he agreed with the other members of the Coffee County legislative delegation on an amendment to the one-cent sales tax bill that would allow the bill to pass the Alabama Senate.

Weeks originally proposed that any reference to part of the tax going to capital outlay for education must be removed before he signed the bill out. However, he said Monday he would compromise and leave the reference to education in the bill if the 35 percent figure was removed and it was left to the county commission to determine the percentage after they find out how much is needed to retire the proposed courthouse-jail bonds.

Weeks said he wanted the people of Coffee County to realize that the main reason they would be voting on would be the bill of people of Coffee County to tax themselves to maintain the two courthouse systems.

Weeks said that with the amendment he requested there was no possibility of the tax bill's getting tied up on legal technicalities, which was highly probable as it was originally written.

Representative Jimmy Holey confirmed Monday afternoon that the Weeks, Representative James Ray and Senator Wallace Miller were working on the problem, and he felt the compromise worked out with Weeks was acceptable to the entire delegation. It was what the county commission would accept.

It is unclear, following the request for a constitutional amendment by the county commission, just what the status of the sales tax bill is at this time. A request has been made for a legal opinion on substituting the constitutional amendment in place of the sales tax bill, or combining the two. While both of these seem doubtful, it is the only way the request could be handled the one day left in the current special session of the Alabama legislature.

Commission Seeks To Change 1903 Jail Law

The Coffee County Commission met in regular session on Monday, November 23, at the courthouse in Enterprise and voted unanimously to ask the county's legislators to introduce a bill seeking a constitutional amendment that would abolish the 1903 law requiring a jail to be constructed at the site of both courthouses in the county.

The resolution adopted at Monday's meeting asked the legislators to act on a constitutional amendment that would allow Coffee County to have only one jail which would be centrally located in the county and would serve both courthouses in Elba and Enterprise.

The 1903 law, which has been in the center of a recent controversy, mandated that a jail be constructed to hold prisoners in a city in which court is held for more than six months of the year. If passed by a statewide election, the amendment would release the commission from a court order to build a jail in Enterprise.

The actual site of the jail was not decided, and although New Brockton was hinted as the site, Commissioner Eugene Bradley stated, "The motion says it will be built somewhere in between the two courthouses."

Parade Coming

The annual Jaycee Christmas parade has been scheduled for December 5, at 2 o'clock. Elba, New Brockton, Zion Chapel and Kinston bands will march in the parade.

Anyone interested in entering a unit in the parade may contact Jimmy Wise at 897-2457, or any Jaycee.

Attorney General Rules On Matter Requested By Mayor

Attorney General Charles Graddick ruled recently on an August request by Elba Mayor Bob English concerning the appointment of a city superintendent of education. Graddick ruled that it is legal for the board of education to appoint a superintendent as superintendent, but the council must immediately resign his council position.

The opinion request was written before the local school board named John Ogburn to replace retiring Superintendent Elmer Taylor. Among those qualifying for the job was John W. Sharpless, a member of the Elba City Council.

The board selected Ogburn, a Lee County educator, because the current school term began in August and therefore the immediate need for the opinion was passed.

Commission Seeks To Change 1903 Jail Law

When asked about the fate of a bill to allow the people to vote on a one-cent sales tax, Rowe stated, "We need to go with what we've got and not pass any resolutions. I talked with Senator Mike Weeks (who had threatened to kill the bill if a sentence giving 35 percent of the tax money to schools wasn't deleted) last week and told him a majority of the commissioners had agreed to let him drop the earmarking to the schools, so he knows how we feel. He can no longer blame the commission for the death of the bill if he does indeed kill it."

In other action at Monday's meeting, the commission:

- discussed transferring two Senior Aide employees from Human Resource Center to County Health Department;
- voted to take bids on three garbage trucks the county wishes to sell and open the bids on December 14;
- agreed to hold a press conference on December 14 at 10:00 a.m. to discuss the plans to seek a constitutional amendment allowing the county to build a new jail in a central location, and invite all county legislators to attend;
- refused to pay a repair bill for the road, but did agree to fix the road; the informed county employees all offices would be open on Christmas Eve;
- by a vote of 4-2 (voting "no" were Grant and Eagerton) voted to send out invitations to bid on a new pickup truck for the Highway Department;
- voted to advertise in the local papers for a shop foreman;

City Council Increases Garbage Rates

The Elba City Council met Monday evening with all members present and voting. Only two items considered in the short meeting required a motion and vote by the council, and neither required lengthy discussion.

The council culminated previous discussions on the cost of garbage pick-up by accepting the recommendation of Mayor Bob English and increased the monthly cost of garbage pick-up an average of 43%. This means that residential fees will be $5.00.

English reported to the council on a used concession stand that could be purchased and used at the proposed new recreation park. He appointed Councilman Cleo Hawkins and Ray Trammell to check the 20 x 24 building and decide if the city should enter a bid. Councilman Charles Kennett opposed the move stating that with the shortage of money the city faced, nothing was a bargain.

The only other action was a report by English that the police department was operating smoothly. He also outlined a plan for naming a new police chief. Applications will be accepted until November 30, with each councilman getting copies of the applications and qualified. From these five, the three top interviewers will be invited to an interview in executive session and hopefully a new chief will be named at the regular meeting on December 7. The councilman accepted this plan without change.

The next regularly scheduled meeting will be on Monday, December 14, at 9:00 a.m. in Enterprise.

Attorney General Rules On Matter Requested By Mayor

Attorney General Charles Graddick ruled recently on an August request by Elba Mayor Bob English concerning the appointment of a city superintendent of education. Graddick ruled that it is legal for the board of education to appoint a councilman as superintendent, but the councilman must immediately resign his council position.

The board selected Oshorn, a Lee County educator, before the current school term began and therefore the immediate need for the opinion was passed.

THE LITTLE MISS CHRISTMAS pageant was held Saturday night, November 21, in the Elba High School auditorium, sponsored by the Elba Jaycees. Pictured are the winners, L. R. Misty Boland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jeart Boland, 1st grade - 3rd runner-up; Leah Crowe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Crowe, 1st grade, 4th runner-up; INDYA LAWLESS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lawless, kindergarten, winner; Amber Boutwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Boutwell, kindergarten, runner-up; Chasity Moulton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Moulton, 3rd grade, 2nd runner-up.

Sen. Mike Weeks Agrees To Allow Vote On Sales Tax Bill

State Senator Mike Weeks told this newspaper Monday that he agreed with the other members of the Coffee County legislative delegation on an amendment to the one-cent sales tax bill that would allow the bill to pass the Alabama Senate.

Weeks originally proposed that any reference to part of the tax going to be capital outlay for education must be removed before he signed the bill out. However, he said Monday he would compromise and leave the reference to education in the bill if the 35 percent figure was removed and it was left to the county commission to determine the percentage after they find out how much is needed to retire the proposed courthouse bonds.

Weeks said he wanted the people of Coffee County to realize that the main issue they would be voting on would be the problems, and he felt the compromise worked out with Weeks was acceptable to the entire delegation if it was what the county commission would accept.

It is unclear, following the request for a constitutional amendment by the county commission, just what the status of the sales tax bill is at this time. A request has been made for a legal opinion on substituting the sales tax bill, or combining the two. While both of these actions would be legal, only the request could be handled in the one day left in the current special session of the Alabama legislature.

The annual Jaycee Christmas parade has been scheduled for December 5, at 2 o'clock, Elba, New Brockton, Zion Chapel and Kinston bands will march in the parade.

Anyone interested in entering a unit in the parade may contact Jimmy Wise at 897-2457, or any Jaycee.

Commission Hit With Federal Lawsuit

The Coffee County Jail in Elba has been a thorn in the side of county commissioners and sheriffs for many years, and all along the politicians knew that one day an inmate would file a lawsuit about the poor conditions in the antiquated facility. However, each set of elected officials would keep their fingers crossed and hope the suit wouldn't come during their term. Well, their luck has run out, because on Wednesday, Nov. 18, a former state inmate housed at the jail filed a suit in United States District Court and named Sheriff Bruce Paul, Judge James L. Sawyer and the members of the Coffee County Commission as defendants.

Filing the suit was Wallace Cotterall, a former state inmate who was reportedly confined in the jail for 30 days during the summer of 1981 while awaiting a disciplinary hearing at the Elba Work Release Center. He was serving a sentence for second degree burglary at the time of the stay at the county jail.

In the lawsuit, filed by Cotterall, individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated, the plaintiffs declared the suit was an action seeking declaratory and injunctive relief against the defendants for committing acts under color of state law, depriving the plaintiffs of rights under the Constitution and laws of the United States.

Specifically, the complaint accused the defendants, jointly and severally, of establishing and maintaining laws and the rights, privileges, and immunities guaranteed under the First, Fifth, Eighth and Fourteenth Amendments.

Under the Eighth and Fourteenth Amendments, the plaintiffs stated the defendants owe a duty to each inmate incarcerated in the Coffee County Jail to be free from deprivation of his or her life, liberty or property without due process of law and free from cruel and unusual punishment. These mandated duties include: the duty to provide inmates with protection from harm; the duty to provide safe and sanitary living conditions; the duty to provide the opportunity for adequate visitation and communication; the duty to abstain from unfair, summary or cruel disciplinary practices; the duty to provide a medical care delivery system which is adequate to meet the needs of all inmates; the duty to provide a program of exercise; the duty to provide a healthful diet; the duty to provide minimal requisites for personal hygiene and the duty to provide an environment and program which will not impede an inmate's rehabilitation or in any other way debilitate him physically, mentally or socially.

Continuing, the suit contends the defendants failed or refused to provide the inmates with protection from harm by: maintaining a staff insufficient in numbers and training to protect an inmate from harm; failure to implement a classification system which would minimize the likelihood of physical assaults by guards or other inmates; and also violated the rights of inmates by maintaining the jail in an unconscionable, unsafe and hazardous state of disrepair. The poor conditions included overcrowded living areas, inadequate and unsanitary toilets; sinks and showers, failure to repair broken or leaking pipes, windows, walls and ceilings, and a failure to provide proper ventilation in the summer and heating in the winter. The lengthy document listed a total of 16 major complaints, with countless minor inadequacies.

In closing, the suit asked the court grant inmates relief by: declaring unlawful the maintenance of the Coffee County Jail in the manner listed in the complaints; enjoining the defendants from continuing the maintenance of the jail; and requiring the defendants to take affirmative action to be denied by the conditions in the Coffee County Jail as set out in the complaint.

The commissioners, sheriff and probate judge have 20 days to answer the complaint in the Middle District of Alabama, United States District Court.

COMMISSIONER REX BOUTWELL examines summons delivered at Monday morning's commission meeting informing the commission of a federal lawsuit.

Elderly May Receive Tax Exemptions

By NITA LACKEY

There are now two property tax exemptions for persons over 65 years old—both which are contingent on income, according to Revenue Commissioner Ronnie Burns.

The first, known as Act 48, states that an individual over 65 years old is exempt from ad valorem taxation on up to 160 acres of owner-occupied adjacent property. This includes state, county, municipal and school district taxes.

To qualify for this exemption, the individual must have had an adjusted gross income of $7,500 or less by his last Alabama state income tax form. If the person does not have his or her last state tax form, other sufficient evidence (such as a federal income tax form), must be brought to the revenue commissioner's office.

The second exemption, Act 8157, allows persons over 65 to pay a much reduced rate of taxes.

This act states that an individual is exempt from taxation on up to 160 acres of owner-occupied adjacent property as far as estate taxation is concerned, and exempt on up to $5,000 worth of assessed value on both county and school district taxes, Burns said.

However, if these individuals live within the city limits of a municipality, they are required to pay city taxes.

"I would like to emphasize the fact that individuals over 65 years of age, in order to qualify for either exemption, must show proof of income by their last state tax returns," Burns said.

If no tax returns (state or federal), were filed the individual is required to sign such on his assessment sheet, and may still receive the exemption, he added.

Persons who do not qualify for either of the above exemptions (of any age), may qualify for the normal homestead exemptions, Burns said. This allows up to a $48,000 exemption for someone who owns property and lives on it.

Commission Seeks To Change 1903 Jail Law

The Coffee County Commission met in regular session on Monday, November 23, at the courthouse in Enterprise and voted unanimously to ask the county's legislators to introduce a bill seeking a constitutional amendment that would abolish a 1903 law requiring a jail to be constructed at the site of both courthouses in the county.

The resolution adopted at Monday's meeting asked the legislators to act on a constitutional amendment that would allow Coffee County to have only one jail which would be centrally located in the county and would serve both courthouses in Elba and Enterprise.

The 1903 law, which has been in the center of a recent controversy, mandated that a jail be constructed to hold prisoners in a city in which court is held for more than six months of the year. If passed by a statewide election, the amendment would release the commission from a court order to build a jail in Enterprise.

In other action at Monday's meeting, the commission:

- discussed transferring two Senior Aide employees from Human Resource Center to County Health Department;
- voted to take bids on three garbage trucks the county wishes to sell and open the bids on December 14;
- agreed to hold a press conference on December 14 at 10:00 a.m. to discuss the plans to seek a constitutional amendment allowing the county to build a new jail in a central location, and invite all county legislators to attend;
- refused to pay a repair bill for the road, but did agree to fix the road; the informed county employees all offices would be open on Christmas Eve;
- by a vote of 4-2 (voting "no" were Grant and Eagerton) voted to send out invitations to bid on a new pickup truck for the Highway Department;
- voted to advertise in the local papers for a shop foreman;
- voted to send out bids for resurfacing work on County Roads 14 (2.7 miles), 6 (4.2 miles), 79 (2.4 miles), 11 (2.2 miles) and 55 (1.6 miles), and to open the bids on December 28, at 9:00 a.m.;
- voted to send out bids on a new or used dozer (500 hours worktime or less);
- and agreed to close a road near the Fairview Community after an alternate route is established.

The next regularly scheduled meeting will be on Monday, December 14, at 9:00 a.m. in Enterprise.

Attorney General Rules On Matter Requested By Mayor

Attorney General Charles Graddick ruled recently on an August request by Elba Mayor Bob English concerning the appointment of a city superintendent of education. Graddick ruled that it is legal for the board of education to appoint a councilman as superintendent, but the councilman must immediately resign his council position.

The board selected Osburn, a Lee County educator, before the current school term began and therefore the immediate need for the opinion was passed.

The opinion request was written

Sen. Mike Weeks Agrees To Allow Vote On Sales Tax Bill

State Senator Mike Weeks told this newspaper Monday that he agreed with the other members of the Coffee County legislative delegation on an amendment to the one-cent sales tax bill that would allow the bill to pass the Alabama Senate.

Weeks originally proposed that any reference to part of the tax going to be capital outlay for education must be removed before he signed the bill out. However, he said Monday he would compromise and leave the reference to education in the bill if the 35 percent figure was removed and it was left to the county commission to determine the percentage after they find out how much is needed to retire the proposed courthouse bonds.

Weeks said he wanted the people of Coffee County to realize that the main issue they would be voting on would be the problems, and he felt the compromise worked out with Weeks was acceptable to the entire delegation if it was what the county commission would accept.

It is unclear, following the request for a constitutional amendment by the county commission, just what the status of the sales tax bill is at this time. A request has been made for a legal opinion on substituting the sales tax bill, or combining the two. While both of these options are possible, it is only the request could be handled in the one day left in the current special session of the Alabama legislature.

The only other action was a report by English that the police department was operating smoothly. He also outlined a plan for naming a new police chief.

Applicants will be accepted until November 30, with each councilman getting copies of the applications and qualified. From these five, the three top vote-getters will be invited to an interview in executive session and hopefully a new chief will be named at the regular meeting on December 7. The councilman accepted this plan without change.

The annual Jaycee Christmas parade has been scheduled for December 5, at 2 o'clock, Elba, New Brockton, Zion Chapel and Kinston bands will march in the parade.

In the parade may enter a unit at 897-2457, or any Jaycee.

Brainstorms

By FERRIN COX

We're in pretty good shape at our house - food wise. During the Halloween carnival at the local schools, we got caught up in an auction of donated items and wound up with two "gift box" certificates from Elba Packing Company. Well, last week we ate editor redeemed those coupons and got some goodies; and the very next morning my family was in the kitchen eating those smoked sausage, and my diet got revised to include a little sausage. Now we eat Kelley's sausage at other times, but I do believe that early morning sausage on my empty stomach was the best piece of meat in this whole wide world!

President Reagan is standing by his budget director, David Stockman, in spite of Stockman's statements of doubting that the Reagan plan for the economy will work. The president summoned his budget director to a meeting, but both emerged smiling - as were the Democrats who had been saying all along that it wouldn't work. Thus far Stockman still seems to be the man of the hour in Washington, as far as Reagan is concerned.

The Jaycees are again planning their Christmas parade and visiting interested parties. There will be a bunch of high school bands and floats for this holiday season; the event is scheduled for December 5, at 2 p.m.

The Elba Chamber of Commerce was officially organized last Wednesday morning with a meeting and election of a board of directors. The plans now include hiring a fulltime person to handle the day-to-day job of "being a Chamber of Commerce." We look forward to writing some good things about this organization.

We got a complaint last weekend about not being at a meeting making a picture of some children getting an award. We hate we missed the event because of the children, but it was a case of us not being notified. We don't mind being ignored or forgotten, but we sure hate to have the folks who ignored or forgot us telling people it is because we "don't care" that we are absent. It is nice to find people with strong enough backbone to say honestly either "We didn't want them here" or "I forgot!"

Picture yourself at the Elba City Council meeting - and it is time for the routine report from the police chief. Elba is without a chief and Mayor Bob English is running the whole show; therefore he made a report that everything seemed to be running fine. Then he outlined his plan for hiring a new chief and asked the councilmen for comments. Councilman Cio Hawkins had said very little up to this point but spoke up with an opinion he thought the present chief was doing a fine job, and cheaper - so he thought they shouldn't change. Well, English spit and spluttered for about fifteen seconds and then retorted with a statement that the chief's duty would be rotated and he believed Hawkins was next! Needless to say, they both agreed it was time to hire a chief of police.

For years we have talked about the possibility of a lawsuit being filed on the conditions in the Coffee County Jail. Well it has happened now, but all the talking has not made it a sweeter pill to swallow. What the suit will do to county politics remains to be seen, but rest assured the presence of both a state suit and an Enterprise jail, and the fact that the conditions of the Elba jail will surely have an effect on county politics for years to come, regardless of the ultimate solution(s).

Scholar Mike Weeks was willing to talk about a compromise on the one-cent sales tax bill now in the Alabama legislature. He told us Monday he would sign out the bill if the 35 percent figure for the schools was removed. Mike explained that the compromise could still allocate some of the money for the schools after working out the details on the jails and courthouses with the bond attorneys. We will get a chance to vote on something like this.

The county commissioners voted unanimously on something Monday! Normally it is almost impossible to get them together on a motion to adjourn; but Monday they voted to ask the legislative delegation for a constitutional amendment to build one jail in a central location - we are still in shock over the unity. Maybe this is a sign of better things to come. Then again it might be shock on their part thinking of all the additional lawyer bills they must pay to defend yet another lawsuit.

We have been asked by several readers just why we dropped the issue of the probate judge's expense allowance. Well, we didn't drop the matter - the commission is getting an opinion from the attorney general, and in the meantime Judge Sawyer has not filed a claim for the monthly check. We ask for no more than this, salute the commission and the judge for this position, and will respect the opinion of the AG - he stays with his 1979 opinion or changes horses in the middle of the stream.

The Cable TV folks told us recently they have definite plans for upgrading the local system and also for extending the lines to some unserved areas of the town. All this should get started soon after the first of the year.

Inside Our Schools

SUPERINTENDENT JOHN OSBURN

One of the most important and vital aspects of the total school program is school attendance. Many of the important aspects are obvious, but often not emphasized. As we enter into the months that are notorious for poor school attendance, let's take a quick refresher course in the importance of encouraging and emphasizing good school attendance.

One major reason for encouraging good school attendance is finance. Many aspects of public school finance are tied in some way to pupil attendance, better known as average daily attendance or ADA. The ADA is calculated by dividing the number of teaching days into the aggregate attendance. One funding component that is related to a system's ADA is the allocation of teacher units which come from the state. The ADA figure is divided by 26 with the results being the average number of teachers per student. Other allowable costs that are tied to the ADA include transportation funds and capital outlay funds. In essence, we could summarize that the higher the ADA is, the greater the financial assistance that is realized from the state.

In addition to good school attendance being vital to school finance, I believe we would all agree that when a student is absent, something will be missed. Schools have the responsibility of providing many services to students. It is obvious that the student must be in attendance in order to receive the services. When a child enters the first grade, then graduates with a state diploma, only 12 percent of that child's total time will have been spent in school. The 12 percent only holds true if that child has been perfect in attendance. Certainly we would agree that this is an alarmingly small figure when we consider all that we expect the child to receive from school. For the school to provide maximum educational opportunity for each child, it is imperative that the child be in attendance whenever possible.

As students, parents, and educators, we must all work together to encourage good school attendance.

And now for the "Head of the Class." Do you know who, according to research, is the "voice of the school?" If you answer teacher, principal, board member or superintendent you are wrong. Research indicates that in the average community the school secretary is the school employee best known by most parents. Their duties are endless. From passing out band-aids to compiling lunch reports the duties never seem to end. Any principal will tell you that some of the most traumatic days are the days that his secretary is absent. We are extremely fortunate to have such able and competent "voices of the school." Peggy Baxley, Kathy Smith, and Sara Moody, who are the head of the class for a job well done.

We're very happy to know that Jimmy Thigpen is out of the hospital and doing okay.

Congratulations go out to Sgt. William Thigpen for extending his enlistment in the National Guard for six years.

Happy birthday to Jacqueline Rena Luckett of Elba.

James A. Gray, Ben Baxley and I went to Birmingham Tuesday morning to pick up Jurian Gray from University Hospital. We're hoping your recovery is very speedy.

Shanet Nichel Knighten celebrated her third birthday Sunday with a party in her parents' home.

Anyone interested in an original, come together in one origin, love, happiness and brotherhood; we'll certainly make this holiday season a most memorable event.

Invite someone that's unfortunate - a senior citizen, a child - or anyone you think won't have an enjoyable dinner. Before dinner ask someone to share a moment that has made his/her year very good. Sit down at the table of brotherhood - reach out and touch someone's hand - make this world a better place. YOU CAN!

Make a joyful noise unto the Lord, all ye lands. Serve the Lord with gladness, come before his presence with singing. Know ye that the Lord he is God; it is not he that hath made us and not we ourselves. We are his people and the sheep of his pasture. Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise. Be thankful unto him and bless his name, for the Lord is good, his mercy is everlasting, and his truth endureth to all generations.

Let us to the streets recently to see what people think about Thanksgiving. Here are some comments:

Nadean White: Every day is Thanksgiving.

Alice Blue: Happiness is being thankful on Thanksgiving Day.

Frank Phillips: A time to take out and be thankful.

Robert Timothy: Gray's God has blessed me on this Thanksgiving day. Thank you.

William Thigpen: A celebration where we show our thanks to be alive.

Beverly Magwood: Taking time to be with the ones we love, and thankful for being and thankful for living.

Willie Ray Chism: I love it - I'll have a nice time.

Bad Waters: Glad to be living.

Jameson Gray: That's the day before my birthday.

Gloria Soulembier: It's okay - life's okay.

Johnnie Ann Lindsay: Thank God I'm living.

Leon Coleman: Plenty to eat and good health.

Henry Terry: It's obvious we have a long way to go. If we, as a people, regardless of our race, creed, color or national

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Eunice V. Johnson enjoyed a rather early Thanksgiving dinner Sunday, November 22, at their home. The delicious meal included turkey, rice, turnips, dressing, tea and chocolate cake. Those enjoying this treat were Rev. J.W. Davis, Bethel AME Church; Oprie Urru, Joe Urru, Margaret Hill, Doris Waters, Nancy Stamper, Alzida Brundage and Lonnie D. Davis.

Magie D. Marshall: As we approach the coming of the Thanksgiving holidays, we should express our gratitude. If we are to give thanks in depth, as we ought, this must be done often out of the heart, and from the achievement of a living faith. The truth is that it is not easy to give thanks.

There are those people whose cup is too full - 2. There are those who, like the Israelites, will find their cups too full. Whether our cup is too full or too empty, the fact remains that people will find it difficult to give thanks but we must because Thanksgiving is a time for the spirit - "for this, give thanks."

Rev. Aubrey Williams: A time to set aside for giving thanks. We should thank the Lord daily for his many blessings, loving kindness and mercy.

This year the Elba Rotary Club observes its 20th anniversary. Our club is one of 19,424 Rotary clubs in 156 countries with a membership of 897,750 throughout the world.

The object of Rotary is to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise and, in particular, to encourage and foster:

1. The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service;
2. High ethical standards in business and professions; the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations, and the dignifying by each Rotarian of his occupation as an opportunity to serve society;
3. The application of the ideal of service by every Rotarian to his personal, business and community life;
4. The advancement of international understanding, good will, and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men united in the ideal of service.

One of the principal means of carrying out this objective is the Rotary Foundation which is a trust voluntarily supported by Rotary clubs and Rotarians throughout the world. This Foundation, founded in 1931, has made over 17,000 educational awards, including graduate and undergraduate scholarships, special grants for teachers of the handicapped, and journalism awards.

This year the Rotary Club of Elba contributed $1000 to the Rotary Foundation in honor of Kasper W. Anderson, and he was designated a Paul Harris Fellow by the Foundation. Paul Harris was the founder of Rotary International, and the Elba Club has the distinction of having three other Paul Harris Fellows, which is the highest honor in Rotary. They are Carlton Larkins, Dr. John Kimmey and Robert Marsh.

Throughout the past 20 years, Elba Rotary has supported and made substantial contributions to the Alabama Society for Crippled Children, Inc., and the Alabama Heart Association.

Locally, we have always supported many organizations such as the Girl Scouts, Band Boosters, United Cerebral Palsy of the Wiregrass, the Boy Scouts, Special Olympics, Elba City Library, Coffee County Arts Alliance, Presidential Classroom program, and others.

The Rotarians of Elba Rotary look forward to the next 20 years of service.

EARL E. PETERS
President

HOW TO BE A GOOD COOK
The Art of Chopping

One of the first techniques many beginning cooks learn is how to chop an onion. Here's an easy way to do it.

Peel and cut an onion in half lengthwise. Place cut side down and slice crosswise into 1/2" pieces. Slice lengthwise into 1/2 inch pieces. Give a quarter turn and slice again. This method also works well for other vegetables, such as potatoes and carrots.

Survivors include her husband, Osmie William Pope, of Elba. One brother, Randolph Crosby, Elba; One sister, Mary Farris, Elba; Seven nieces and nephews.

Mrs. Pope was a retired teacher.

Chad Atkinson, Tim Marler, Regina Harrison, Scott Oglesby, Ricky Driskell, Keith Bryant and Rodney Hawkins. Behov, front row are: Tabetha Owens, Shawn Wilkins, Clay Jester, Angela Decison, Chris Owens, Kennie Griffin, Tracey Williams, Kim Blackmon, Jennifer Gaylor, Bill Tindol, Pam Caldwell; Second row: Mary Lassiter, Frankie Howe, Michael Edgar, Todd Bradshaw, Wayne Linsley, Pam Culverhouse; standing: Jennifer Taylor, and Dawn Nolin.

THE COMMUNITY ROOM in Morrow Village was the setting Thursday, November 19, for the annual Thanksgiving dinner for residents of Mullins Apartments and Morrow Village. Foods of every kind were set out on two tables, and the participants enjoyed the fellowship as well as the food. For some of them, this was a chance to visit with old friends; for others, it was a chance to make new friends. Rev. David Richburg gave the invocation.

HOLIDAY OPEN HOUSE

Don't forget... Holiday Open House is December 3 at our office, from 10:00 a.m. until 2:00 p.m. and from 7:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. Please make your reservations early or purchase a ticket in advance. Call our office, 894-5506 or 897-2776, for reservations.

WALKING

Are you in the shape you want to be? Do you despise the thought of jogging for exercise? Well, try walking. You can't beat the cost of exercising this way. Build up gradually to a rate of four miles per hour. That's one mile every 15 minutes. Walk with a friend for added enjoyment.

Don't jump into it too fast. If you haven't been walking very rapidly, be patient and gradually build up to the 15 minute mile pace.

BUDGETING FOR THE HOLIDAYS

Merchants are reminding us that the Christmas season is not far away. With all the excitement, it is easy to overspend. A holiday spending plan or a budget can save time, energy and money. Involve the family in making a holiday budget. Begin by getting the season in perspective. Ask yourself and your family the following questions. Why do we celebrate? Why do we give? What is the season all about?

Next, examine your income and expenses to determine how much money is available for the holiday season. Once that amount has been determined, make a list of expenses to be paid from that money. Include such things as travel expenses if you are planning to visit relatives during the season. If you are to be visited during the holiday season, include entertainment expenses. If you plan to send Christmas cards, be sure to include cost of cards and stamps in your budget.

Now, find out how much money is available in your budget for gifts. Make a list of the people and organizations you want to remember with gifts. For each person or organization on your list, identify what you would like to give and the estimated cost of the gift. Add all the estimated costs and subtract them from the money available.

If you are like most people, the cost will be greater than the amount budgeted. You can do one of two things: increase the holiday budget or decrease the cost. You can decrease the cost by eliminating names on your list or reducing the amount to be spent on one or more gifts.

You may want to consider giving of your time and energy rather than a purchased gift. For example, give I.O.U.'s for car washes, dog walks, babysitting or shoe shines. You can also stretch your holiday budget by giving products you have made such as jams, jellies, pickles, cakes, cookies, aprons, bird houses, rocking houses.

WINTER LAWNMOWER STORAGE
Now is the time to put lawnmowers away for the winter. You'll want to share this with the man of the house. To make sure your lawnmower will be ready to go again next spring, be sure to follow these storage tips.

Thoroughly wipe the lawnmower with a dry or slightly dampened cloth. Be sure to clean both the top and underneath the machine. Change the oil and clean the air filter. This helps assure that the inside of the mower is clean and ready for work next year.

Remove the spark plug, put one teaspoon of motor oil into the sparkplug hole and replace the plug. Pull the starter cord a few times.

Store the lawnmower in a dry place. Do not cover the machine, because moisture trapped inside the wrapping may rust the apparatus.

POOR ORIGINAL

EHS Black & Gold Review

The bulletin board displayed by Mrs. Butts and Kim Whitman is an example of how more attention is directed to career education.

Career Education Taught At All Schools

The Federal Funded Career Education Program, directed by Mr. Windham, attempts to place special emphasis on careers that are brought to the attention of the students. All teachers teach career education in grades K-12. It is as follows: K-3 - 1 teacher per grade 4-6 - all teachers

7-9 - social studies teachers 10-12 - English teachers The teachers should average at least 30 minutes per week on this subject.

County Probation Officer Displays Karate Skills

By KIM WHITMAN
Mr. Steve Blair is not only the juvenile probation officer of Coffee County, but is also a second degree black belt in karate.

Mr. Blair shared with the home economic classes and others who were interested about karate and how he got involved with it. He told of one night in Louisville, Kentucky, when he decided to go to town with his 18-year-old brother. He was just 16 years old, about 135 pounds, 5 foot, 7 inches and considered small for his age. He and his brother were attacked by a gang. He was being choked and almost blacked out. A priest came alone and made the gang leave. Mr. Blair soon became involved with karate. He has been taking it for nine years and has been instructing karate for two years.

Mr. Blair said that since he has started karate he has never had to use it. He said that fighting should be a last resort.

Home Ec. Students Create A Thanksgiving Feast

Thanksgiving arrived early at Elba High School for students in Mrs. Dyess's first period advanced foods class. The students practiced both their cooking and their dining skills as they prepared a Thanksgiving dinner in the home economics building on Thursday, Nov. 18. The meal consisted of turkey with dressing, dumplings, green peas, cranberry sauce, rice, cherry congealed salad, and leek tea. The students who participated in the class are as follows: Stanley Barnes, Carla Brackin, Marie Brooks, Sophia Caldwell, Cathynette Carpenter, Lori Chandler, Susan Duncanson, Michele Faris, Deyon Gibbs, Jackie Gray, Sheila Johnson, Tina Kelley, Bobbie Lucas, Melissa Martin, Tabatha Miller, Cathy Money, Vickie Owens, Tammy Robinson, Stephanie Smith, Tammy Stewart, Tina Thigpen, Peggy Whitman, and Ginger Wilson.

At Thanksgiving I Am Thankful

Long English: "...for gorgeous girls."
Candy Berry: "...for my Granny and Papa Berry, what are most thankful this Thanksgiving?" The students answered, "I am thankful for my family."
Sherry Smith: "...for a time for all my family to get together."
Ashley Gray: "...for my health, my friends and my family."
Kim Parrish: "...that this is my senior year and that I don't have any more time to serve!"
Kent Morrow: "...for food."
Molly Walker: "...for good health, happiness, and peace of mind."
Greg Henderson: "...that I'm not a turkey!"
Glen Kendrick: "...for my family."
Paul Cox: "...because God loves me."
Vonda Marler: "...for some very special friends, and for all the blessings God has given me."
Jety Wise: "...that we live in a country of plentiful food."
Angie Holt: "...for my stereo and speakers!"
Melissa Norman: "...for the wonderful things I've had, have, and will have."
Lisa Grimes: "...for Freedom."
Tonya Bryan: "...that I have only six more weeks of research to go!"
Becky Smart: "...that there are not any major sicknesses in my family, and that all my friends are alive and well."
Bret Scarborough: "...that I have a great-grandmother and grandfather."
Greg Parker: "...for May the twenty-eighth, nineteen eighty-two!"
Mike Amison: "...to be able to live in a free country."
Kim Whitman: "...for my family."
Velvet Brewer: "...that this week will mark just one more week 'til Greg (my boyfriend) graduates from Officer Candidate School."
Laura Fulmon: "...for family and friends that I enjoy being with."
Delonda Harrison: "...for having Hal."
Steve Cowart: "...that I finally worked my Rubik's Cube!"
Julie Maulden: "...for my family, especially my grand-mamma."
Cydra Johnson: "...for friends."
Beverly Bourwell: "...for the man of my dreams, L.C." Claude Dorey: "...for living in a free country."
Ervin Gannell: "...that school's going to be out for two days!"
Teresa Bludworth: "...for all the food I can eat."

Elba Students Attend AJAS District In Troy

By STANLEY MOORE
Kim Whitman, Candy Berry, Nancy Johnston, and Stanley Moore, members of the Elba High Chapter of the Alabama Junior Academy of Science (AJAS), were accompanied by their sponsor, Mrs. Frances Prior, to the South district meeting of the AJAS in Troy, on Saturday, Nov. 14. At the meeting, they were briefed on the forthcoming Regional Science Fair. This fair is to be held in Troy on February 19.

Ideas were given for numerous projects from which the AJAS members could choose. These ideas were presented by various staff members of Troy State University.

Also, the AJAS members were given a tour of the biology and radiology laboratories at Troy State.

The Elba High AJAS plans to exhibit many projects at the Regional Paper-Reading Competition and Science Fair at Troy, winners of this competition will go to the state competition in Birmingham in March.

Seniors Of The Week

Any Baxley is a hard-working senior. When she is not busy at Harco Drugs, Amy attends Elba High School. At school, Amy serves as secretary for VICA and is active in the Beta Club and Mu Alpha Theta. When she is not occupied with these activities, Amy enjoys horseback riding and being with her friends. After graduation, Amy will attend Enterprise State Junior College, and will later study to become a physical therapist. Amy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Baxley.

Senior Todd Boswell is very active both inside and outside school. At school, Todd has been a member of several organizations, such as FFA, FFA VICA, and the Science Club, and has played both football and basketball. Although Todd is employed by L.M. Burch and Company, he manages to find time for his hobbies: water skiing, hunting, and car. After completing high school, Todd plans to attend college and the Army Reserve. Todd is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Boswell.

Scott Beck, son of Mrs. Ann Beck, is a senior who has plans for his future. Scott is interested in the Army and in welding. These interests are included in Scott's plans for the future, as he hopes to work on an oil rig or enter the Army.

VIEWS FROM THE PRESSBOX

By Ricky Mularz

I went to Dothan Friday night with two things to do, one, to eat a veal parmigiana sandwich at Burger King, and two, to watch Foley and Northview play football. Well, the sandwich was terrible, but it was quite a game as Northview won to move into the semifinals. The 4A Cougars are big and strong, especially on defense, and if their offense wakes up they could just win it all. It was cold, but it was a fine game between two mighty fine schools and it was the best team I've seen this season.

I hit the road last week on three nights to watch basketball action and if the whole season is going to be like the first week I can't wait! Kinston came in second in their Tip-Off Tourney, losing only to Andalusia, and establishing itself as the team to beat in the local 1A ranks. Coach Pete Kelley's team was a little ragged, as you'd expect early in the season, but the Bulldogs showed flashes of brilliance and before long they could have folks believing a second straight state championship is on the way. A lot of things will have to come together and it might take a little luck, however, don't be surprised if Kinston wins a lot of games again this season. It can be done!

The play may have been a little ragged in the Kinston tourney, but the fans were in playoff spirits as they packed the gym every night and made enough noise to wake the dead. The gym every night. It may still be football season in some places, but down in Kinston there's no doubt basketball season has arrived.

I got the final defensive statistics for Troy State last week and they only verified what I had said in my last column - Gary Bradshaw had one heck of a year! During the 10 game season, Bradshaw had 40 tackles, 25 assists, 6 quarter-back sacks, 1 broken-up pass, 1 interception, 1 blocked kick, 1 fumble recovery and he caused another 2 fumbles. Not a bad year for a defensive end at a school that won only 3 games; heck, not a bad year anywhere.

I'm not the kind of sportswriter who likes controversy and I'm not one who tries to stir trouble. However, I do occasionally speak my mind and this week I'd like to say a few things about that so-called football powerhouse over in Daleville called the Warhaws. Elba played the 3A Warhaws in 1978 and won 67-0, and then in 1979 won 48-21 after rolling up a huge 34-7 lead. Well, Daleville decided it couldn't compete in 3A and dropped Elba, but did go out and schedule such stiff competition as Hartford, Cottonwood, Slocumb, Houston County and Dale County. The Hawks won all but one game in 1980 and suddenly became a 3A power in a 2A league! (At least they quit playing Clio) This year Daleville was ready to take on the world and did so by playing Hartford, Cottonwood, Slocumb, Vernon, Laverne and Dale County, and even beat Daleville. After losing 9 wins, there was no doubt over in Daleville they could have made it to state in our Area - Area 3. After all, the only game they lost was to Greenville and they had a truck load of excuses for that. To even suggest Daleville could have won our area is a joke! Daleville won over 3A teams (4 to be exact), but they had such an easy schedule they could rest up and work for weeks on the tough games while beating up on the 2A's.

I know scheduling is tough, but Daleville really wants to prove how good its football team is all they have to do is swap schedules with Dale County. Try playing Elba, Opp, Andalusia, Troy and Ozark in a 7 week span and then you'll have the right to think you're a 3A power. Until then, just be happy as a 3A power in a 2A league.

I only hit on 6 of 10 picks last week, but I'll give it another try. Here are my picks:

Artion 20 - McKenzie 18
Dadeville 14 - Laverne 10
Eufaula 21 - Thompson 7
Jeff Davis 10 - Northview 7
Alabama 17 - Auburn 13

Cats Claw Banks

Frankie Downing poured in 28 points and grabbed 22 rebounds Monday night to lead the New Hope Wildcats to a big 76-47 win over Banks.

New Hope, now 2-0 for the season, had a cold night shooting from both the floor and the free-throw line, but used a sticky full-court press to cause countless turnovers and cashed in the breaks to post the win.

Scoring for New Hope were Frankie Downing 28, Greg Flowers 18, Marlin Jackson 16, Lynor Duncan 10, Jake Johnson 2, Timmy Haynes 1 and Dennis Evans 1. Derrick Carter led Banks with 14 points. Leading the Wildcat defense was Lynor Duncan.

The New Hope B team claimed its first win by rolling over Banks 33-25. Timmy Haynes scored 12 points to pace the Cats, while other scorers were Robert Smith 10, Tony Lipiot 7 and Timmy Keel 4.

New Hope's next game will be on Friday, November 20, at home when they play Sanson. Game times are 6:00 and 7:30.

Lady Tigers Rip Bears 37-26

The Elba Lady Tigers opened their basketball season last Tuesday night with a 37-26 win over the Coffee Springs Golden Bears, in Elba.

The Lady Tigers got off to a fast start, jumping out to a 6-0 lead, and behind the play of Mandy Marler moved on top 12-6 after one quarter of action. Marler scored 8 points in the stanza and pulled down numerous rebounds to dominate the play for Elba. Elba's defense got stingy in the second quarter, holding its visitors to with 4 points, and at the half the Lady Tigers were on top 19-8.

The third quarter was a complete reversal of the first two. As Elba couldn't buy a

Flomaton & McIntosh Fined

Flomaton and McIntosh High Schools have been fined and placed on probation by the Alabama High School Athletic Association as a result of altercations during and after their football game October 16 at McIntosh.

The alterations involving players from both teams, and fans and spectators, were deemed flagrant, unsportsmanlike conduct.

Flomaton was assessed a monetary fine of $250 and placed on probation for one year. This probationary period is a warning that should any other unsportsmanlike incidents occur on the part of any player, student, coach, fan or spectator, representing the school, it will jeopardize the school's membership in the

Rebels In 3 Team Area

The Alabama High School Athletic Association has released corrections in five areas and one region for the 1982-83 and 1983-84 football seasons, and the new area makeup will cause a major change for the Zion Chapel Rebels.

Zion Chapel, who competes in Class A, Area 5, is now one of only three teams in the area, along with G.W. Long and Arion. The area was once a highly competitive, six-team alignment, but Clio's school was closed this year and next year both Louisville and Clayton will move up to 2A.

Bulldogs Fall In Finals

The Kinston Tip-Off Basketball Tournament was held last week in the Kinston High gym and the Andalusia Bulldogs swept through 3 games undefeated to claim the championship. The 3A Bulldogs opened the round robin event by defeating Samson 80-55, and followed with wins over Opp 52-45 and Kinston 64-60.

Kinston, the defending 1A state champions, placed second in the tourney by posting a 2-1 record. The Bulldogs' wins came over Opp 66-45 and Samson 99-62. In third place was Opp, who defeated Samson 61-44. Samson failed to win a game in the season opening event.

Kinston Bulldogs Run Wild In 99-62 Romp

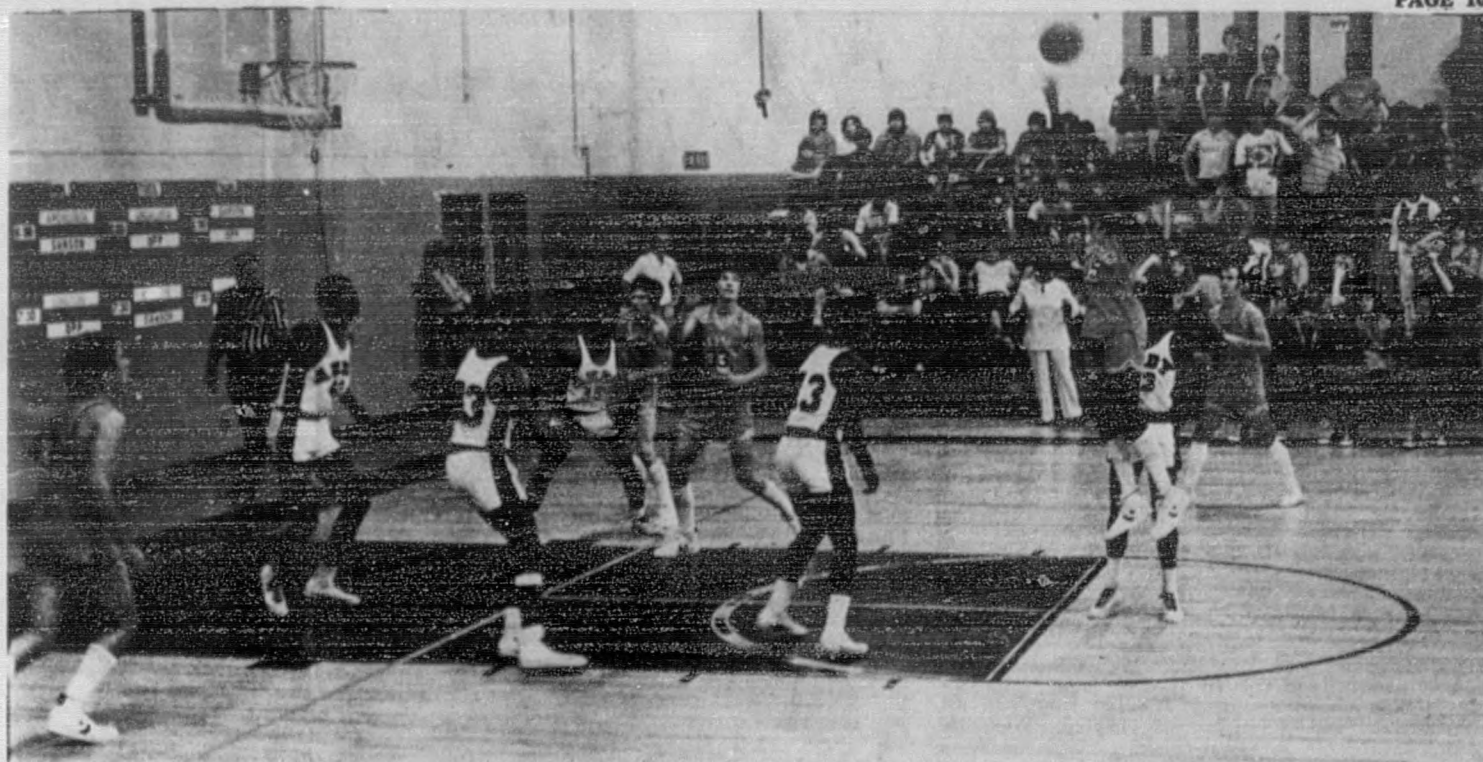

The Kinston Bulldogs pulled ahead early in the game and then simply ran off and hid as they demolished the Samson Tigers 99-62 in the second round of the Kinston Tip-Off Tournament.

Kinston started off red hot in the game, and behind the play of Mike Rhodes and Shane Smith pulled into a lopsided 24-8 lead after one quarter. The Bulldogs serve began to hit the court in the second stanza, but the level of play didn't change as Kinston remained in total command throughout the first half. The Dogs caught their breath at halftime and came back out in the third quarter at full speed as they charged into a big 66-39 lead.

The fourth quarter resembled a track meet as Kinston put on a show by pouring in 33 points to completely bury Samson, and at the final horn the scoreboard was still smoking from the Dogs' 99-62 blowout!

Kinston (99): Lane 17, Free 21, Rhodes 19, S. Smith 8, Thorn 3, Brown 2, Samson (62): Bess 20, Danley 2, Sikes 16, Brooks 17, Silas 5, Gillis 2.

Kinston's Curtis Lane (15) fires in a jump-shot from the free-throw line as the Bulldogs begin to pull away from Andalusia in third quarter action in the Kinston Tip-Off Tourney.

Andalusia Rally Dooms Dogs

The Kinston Bulldogs saw a 9-point lead evaporate in the final 4 minutes of play as the Andalusia Bulldogs rallied to claim an exciting 64-60 win to claim the championship of the Kinston Tip-Off Tourney.

Kinston came out ready to play in the championship contest and jumped into a 5-0 lead on buckets by Tim Free and Curtis Lane. Shane Smith and Mike Rhodes got in on the act following an Andalusia score, and the Dogs were off and running with a 9-2 lead. The lead proved to be short-lived, however, as Andalusia came storming back and pulled into a 14-14 tie just before the end of the quarter.

Andalusia's momentum carried over into the second stanza and the 3A Bulldogs reeled off 8 straight points to grab a quick 22-14 second quarter lead. The clubs swapped buckets until late in the half, when Kinston outscored Andalusia 5-2 to pull within 32-27 at halftime.

Mark Kelley and Curtis Lane each scored early in the third stanza to pull the 1A Dogs within one point at 32-31, but Andalusia refused to relinquish the lead and held on to stay on top 39-36 midway through the period.

Baskets by Lane, Smith and Free lifted Kinston into a 42-39 bulge, and the Bulldogs pulled away late in the stanza to grab a 50-45 lead with one quarter to play.

Curtis Lane scored six points early in the final stanza to put Kinston on top 56-47, causing Andalusia to call a time-out in an effort to regroup. The time-out, which came with 4:13 left in the game, seemed to give Andalusia new life as the 3A Dogs went on a tear and outscored Kinston 15-2 to move in front 62-58 with 2:31 left in the game, and put the win on ice.

Coach Kelley Sees Good Days Ahead

After losing to Andalusia in the finals of the Kinston Tip-Off Tourney last Thursday night there were tears in the eyes of some Kinston players and disappointment in the faces of others. However, there was pride in the face of Coach Pete Kelley and a spark of things to come.

"I think we did real well," said Coach Kelley. "When we started out Monday I was scared to death, but our young folks improved every night. Mike Rhodes was a pleasant surprise the way he took charge. He hit 8 of 8 one night, and 8 of 9 shots the next and dominated the boards against taller opponents. Overall, I saw something good in every game. Shane Smith got 3 rebounds in the opening game, but turned around the next night and grabbed 13 rebounds and scored 18 points, he's coming around fast. Curtis Lane rebounded well and had an outstanding game in the finals and we have two good guards in Mark Kelley and Darrell Smith, who both got to play a lot. Tim Free, scored 18 and way they will get experience is to play. You can't learn if you don't play. I was satisfied with the team and especially pleased with the fan participation. It was great to have so many fans at the games and their cheering really helped us. I put together a strong field to help our kids grow up in a hurry, and I know the pressure will help us."

Kinston's next home game will be on Tuesday, Dec. 1 against Brantley.
